RAIL STOCKS MAKE BIG GAINS ON EXCHANGE

Some Securities Get New Marks; Oils and Steels Also In Demand

NEW PEAK PRICES ON STOCK EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The New York stock market again today swung to higher levels under feverish buying prompted by an avalanche of orders. More than twenty issues reached new peak prices for the year. Railroad stocks led the advance. Today's activities were a continuation of the remarkable market conditions of yesterday, when total sales exceeded the 2,000,000 share mark for the first time in two and a half years. Excitement among traders was intense. Nothing like it had been seen in years. "Bulls" and "bears" cried themselves hoarse as new figures appeared on the boards.

By W. S. COUSINS For International News Service. NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Railroad stocks figured in a spectacular opening of the stock market today, with prices of well known stocks making gains in the maximum of 2 3/4 points and practically all of the stocks which have been featuring the market in the last few sessions advancing to new high price levels.

The rails were still the leaders in the forward movement, though industrial shares were quicker to join the rally than in the last three sessions and prices of representative issues like Baldwin, American Can, U. S. Steel, rose from 1 to 3 points in the first period.

European Market The rise in sterling to a new high level for 1924 at 460 3/4 was of great significance to those who attach much importance to European conditions. It was reported in speculative circles today that British and Dutch investors were in the market for a large quantity of prime railroad and industrial stocks and bonds of the variety of which they were heavy purchasers before the war.

Today's market was but a repetition of the record of the last three preceding sessions, with the same group of railroad and industrial stocks pushing forward to the highest price levels of the year and in some cases for ten or twenty years.

Oils In Demand Not since 1913 has New York Central sold above 116, the price recorded today. Southern Railway, Union Pacific, Pere Marquette, Nickel Plate, B. & O., Southern Pacific, Erie, St. Paul, Missouri Pacific and Canadian Pacific were in the forefront of today's vigorous upward movement.

Oil stocks and independent steels, in their respective order, were the next to command the interest of market traders and transactions in these stocks were unusually heavy. New high prices on the movement were scored by Cossden and Marland Oil.

New High Marks Bethlehem and Crucible made fractional gains in the steels. American Sugar's advance to 43 1/2 following yesterday's 3 1/2 point gain, was a feature of the industrial group; Cast Iron Pipe registered a new high above 125; American Can at 142 1/2 was in the highest price ground in its history.

U. S. Steel made a new high at 115, Baldwin Locomotive jumped 2 1/2 points at the opening to 124, but declined on heavy offerings. Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit sold up nearly 2 points and made new high for the year at 33.

Today's sales: 1,146,000 shares; bonds, $12,900,000. This is the largest number of shares traded in on a Saturday since 1919.

19 Lives Lost as Quake Rocks Algerian Country

ALGIERS, Nov. 8.—Nineteen are reported dead from an earthquake shock which destroyed many buildings here. The populace is panicky, fearing other shocks will follow.

New Revolution Menaces

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE and CHIEF JUSTICE WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT, former president, joined in the tribute paid to GENERAL PLUTARCO CALLES, president-elect of Mexico, on his visit to Washington. They are seen after luncheon at the White House. Calles is shown between the president and Taft. Today's dispatches say military leaders in Mexico are threatening a new revolution.

MEXICO ARMY FIGHT CLUBS THREATENS TO REVOLT

Military Leaders Demand Certain Pledges From President-Elect

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 8.—Mexico was threatened today with a military revolt which may prevent President-Elect Plutarco Elias Calles from taking office unless he gives certain pledges to leading army officers, the ring-leaders of the anti-Calles movement, it was learned from documents smuggled out of Mexico City to avoid the censorship. If the revolt comes to an actual head, the military chiefs may succeed without causing any bloodshed. The movement, according to reliable sources, does not involve civilians, but is being engineered entirely by army officers. Plans for the uprising have been completed in detail. But before taking any definite step, a revolutionary committee will wait upon President-Elect Calles to ask him for satisfactory "declarations of security." If the president-elect consents, there will be no rising; if he does not, everything is in readiness for the blow.

Northwest Milk Price Jumps 1 Cent Quart

SEATTLE, Nov. 8.—Milk prices here will go up 1 cent a quart starting Sunday, November 16, it was announced today by distributors affiliated with the Seattle milk shippers' association. Price delivered will be 10 cents. Farmers will get $2.05 per hundred weight as against $1.85 now paid.

Two Children Perish, 3 Burned In Farm Blaze

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 8.—Two children were burned to death and three other persons seriously burned in a fire that destroyed the farm house of Perry B. Aldridge, three miles north of Victor. The dead are: Enos Aldridge, 6, and his sister, Winona Aldridge, 12.

Contest's Details Not Announced In The News Today

For several days The Glendale Evening News has carried announcements on the first page of a "funny story" contest. The announcement stated that the details of the contest would be outlined in today's paper. However, it has become necessary to postpone the contest. Therefore, the announcement of the details of the contest does NOT appear today.

PROMISE AID TO FARMING INDUSTRY

President and Leaders In Congress Arrange for Commission Inquiry

By H. K. REYNOLDS For International News Service. WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The farming industry will receive considerable attention from the forthcoming short session of Congress.

Plans towards this end were being worked out here today by administration officials and congressional leaders, following the creation by President Coolidge of a federal commission to study the needs of American agriculture with a view to making recommendations to Congress next month.

Former Governor Robert D. Carey of Wyoming will be chairman of the president's commission. Among those associated with him will be Ralph P. Merritt, Fresno, California, president of the Sun Maid Raisin Growers' association, and Fred H. Bixby, Long Beach, Cal., president of the American National Livestock association.

May Submit Report President Coolidge has tentatively suggested November 17 as the date for the first meeting of the commission.

The president may submit the report of the Carey commission to Congress as a part of his annual message on the state of the union, suggesting that its recommendations be considered and reduced to legislation before the adjournment on March 4.

Outside of the legislation and the appropriation bills for the fiscal year 1925-26 little is expected of the final session of the sixty-eighth Congress, either by President Coolidge or administration leaders at the capital.

San Diego Club Women Will 'Preview' Movies

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 8.—Motion pictures shown in San Diego in the future will have to pass the critical eye of a pre-view board of local club women if plans announced today by Miss Josephine Seaman, president of the San Diego County Federation of Women's clubs, are put into operation. Club women "pre-viewed" one film yesterday which is to open at a local theatre today, it was announced, and approved it.

FRANK EVANS IS PROPOSED FOR CABINET

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, called upon President Coolidge at the White House today and recommended the appointment of Frank Evans of Salt Lake City, as the successor to the late Secretary of Agriculture Wallace. Evans, Smoot said, was a member of the executive committee of the American Farm bureau and chief counsellor of the Utah farm bureau. He is also said to have the backing of several farmer organizations of the west.

BIG PIER DESTROYED; LOSS IS $300,000

STOCKTON, ME., Nov. 8.—The Cape Jellison piers, among the largest of the world, were destroyed by fire today at a loss estimated at $300,000. The fire departments of Bangor, Seaport and Belfast fought the fire, which threatened a score of dwellings. The piers contained the storage house of the Great Northern Paper Co., the freight houses of the Bangor & Aroostook railroad and the second largest potato warehouse in the world. A four masted schooner and a barge, tied up at the piers, were destroyed.

Investigating Oil Leases

The hearing of testimony in the government's suit to cancel the Teapot Dome oil leases is going forward in Los Angeles in the federal court of JUDGE PAUL J. MCCORMICK (inset). Left to right: FRED KELLOGG, attorney; E. L. DOHENY, oil man, who sent $100,000 in a little black bag to A. B. Fall, secretary of the interior, and F. HOGAN, attorney, are seen entering the courtroom.

NEW MURDER THIRD PARTY PUZZLING OFFICERS

Man's Body Found In Surf Off Redondo; Mysteries Keep Sheriffs Busy

By GIL A. COWAN For Southern News Service. LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—Two murder mysteries, two wealthy men lost in the mountains, a kidnapping, and several children missing, combined with a week's orgy of crime, have officers in both the police department and sheriff's office running around in circles this week-end.

Today the body of an unidentified man was found in the surf at 6 o'clock this morning at Redondo Beach, according to reports telephoned the sheriff's office by the police chief of that city, Captain William Bright and Criminal Deputy Sheriff Stensland and Wier of the homicide squad are investigating.

Signs of Murder According to reports from the beach, the man's body was bound, and there is no question but what he was murdered, in the opinion of the officers.

The body of a man found yesterday in Mint canyon, a bullet wound showing he had met death at the hands of gunmen, still remains unidentified. Investigations also are being made into two mysterious suicides.

Baby June Shosted, kidnapped by her natural mother, according to Mrs. Elsie Shosted, is being sought today on a ranch near Victorville, where it is believed Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pollan have fled en route to Mexico and France.

No trace has been found as yet of Nevada and Kern county mining men who are believed to have been lost on the desert. Altogether, it has been a most unsatisfactory week for the officers.

Custom Officials After Smuggler of Opium

SEATTLE, Nov. 8.—Customs officials under Collector Millard T. Harrison were making a sweeping investigation of the personnel aboard the steamship President Jefferson today in the hope of apprehending the owner of $13,700 worth of smoking opium seized in a search of the vessel last night.

Seven U.S. Mail Planes Lost as Hangar Burns

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 8.—Seven government air mail planes were destroyed here shortly after midnight when the new hangar at the government air mail field caught fire. The fire was caused by an electric light globe on an extension cord falling to the gasoline-soaked floor and bursting.

SNOW FALLS IN CHICAGO; MICHIGAN SHIVERS

Honolulu Enjoys Hot Wave And Rain Falls In North of State

Glendale today enjoyed warm sunshine, while near-zero temperatures were registered in eastern cities. In Los Angeles harbor at San Pedro a record number of ships rode calmly at anchor, basking in the sunshine, while gales swept the coast of Oregon and roared through the shipping huddled in the wintry harbor at Portland. The weather forecast for Southern California tonight and Sunday is: Fair, with moderate temperature.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Snow fell in Chicago today and freezing temperatures were recorded during the night, but the weather man holds forth a promise of brevity for the present cold wave.

The mercury in the official government thermometer here registered 32 degrees at 11 o'clock last night and remained at the freezing point until 1 a. m., when it began to rise slowly, reaching 39 at 7 a. m. In the face of a stifling northwest breeze, however, it dropped to 36 at 8 a. m. and hovered around that mark most of the morning.

Cold in Michigan DETROIT, Nov. 8.—Michigan awoke today to find itself shivering in near-freezing temperatures, the coldest of the season. The belated cold snap blanketed Northern Michigan with four to six inches of snow, and necessitated storm signals over the upper lakes. In the eight hours between 3 and 11 p. m. yesterday the mercury dropped twenty-nine degrees.

Hot in Honolulu HONOLULU, Nov. 8.—Honolulu is enjoying a hot wave. The weather bureau announced today that yesterday was the hottest day of the year, with a temperature of 84.8.

Rain, Snow in North CHICO, Cal., Nov. 8.—One inch of rain fell here during last night, a record rainfall this season. A high wind accompanied the rain. Snow fell in the mountains.

Widney, Stanley McIntosh and Darwin L. Boyer for more than $20,000 damages, alleging that he was induced to become a stockholder in the Bankers Trust Co., of California, organizing, on the promise of being made a vice-president and department manager, under alleged misrepresentation.

$25,000 Still Seized In South Pasadena

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—Deputy sheriffs working under George Contreras, captain of the dry squad, this morning seized a $25,000 still at 360 Monterey road, South Pasadena, it is reported, bringing in with them 170 gallons of whisky as evidence of the activities of S. Berger and E. Law, alleged operators of the plant. This still is the second largest ever seized by the county authorities.

Football

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 8.—Princeton gave Harvard what was probably its worst beating in modern football history this afternoon when an inspiration Tiger team ripped and tore its way through the Red line of the wavering Harvard men to a 34 to 0 victory. Princeton simply rent the Harvard defense to tatters and roamed the field at will, scoring a field goal and a touchdown in the second period, adding another touchdown in the third and two more and an additional field goal in the fourth.

Harry Ingledue Dies In Colorado Springs

C. W. Ingledue of 501 East Wilson avenue and his sister, Mrs. Inez Hightower, are en route to Glendale from Colorado Springs, Colo., with the remains of their brother, Harry Ingledue, whose death occurred Thursday afternoon, November 6, 1924. Mr. Ingledue and Mrs. Hightower left Glendale Wednesday morning, but did not arrive until after their brother's death. Upon their arrival, funeral services and interment will take place in Glendale. Harry Ingledue, who was a linotype operator, had many friends in Glendale. His death occurred in the Union Printers' home in Colorado Springs.

NEWS OF VALLEY

LANKERSHIM, Nov. 8.—The Community band gave its first concert last night at the Little theatre on Magnolia boulevard at Bakman street. Albert Perfect conducted. Miss Ethel Stienberg, soprano, was the soloist.

The descriptive piece by Wheeler, "An Evening in Hawaii," was particularly delightful. The music created the illusion of evening shadows falling, firing of cannon in sundown salute, the national hymn heard in the distance, flourish of trumpets announcing the arrival of her majesty, Queen Li-luakalani, citizens gathering for festival, a group of serenaders, Aloha, strumming of ukuleles, a clock striking nine, general dancing and finale.

With the granting of a franchise to Burbank for an Elks' lodge, the Lankershim section is taken out of the Glendale territory and put under Burbank jurisdiction. The new Burbank lodge will have jurisdiction over the greater part of the San Fernando valley and to the northern boundary of Los Angeles county, which includes Lancaster and Palmdale.

The annual bazaar and chicken supper of the Ladies Aid society of Community church will be held Tuesday, November 11, in the social hall of the church.

House numbers for Lankershim are now available. Send a description of your property to the city engineer's office at Van Nuys and the number will be forwarded to you.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Moore, father and mother of Mrs. E. E. Harnel, have returned from their eastern trip and are spending the week here, after which they go to their home at Solvang. They motored back from Detroit and saw most of the middle west territory. They are more in love with California than ever.

Methodists' Services For 'Home Coming'

Pacific Avenue Methodist church members, past and present, and their friends, will join tomorrow in an "Home Coming Day" and re-opening, following the completion of the church annex. There will be three special services and a noon luncheon. At the morning service Dr. Walter C. Buckner of Pasadena, district superintendent, speaks. Following luncheon, fellowship service, at 3 o'clock, will be addressed by Dr. Lincoln A. Ferris, pastor of the First Methodist church. At 7:30 o'clock that night there will be a platform meeting, addresses by Dr. H. J. Hartsell of Pasadena, Dr. C. A. Norcross of Monterey Park and Dr. W. W. Cookman of Glendale, former pastors of the church.

Glendalians Solicited In Round-World Cruise

L. E. Archer of San Francisco, Pacific coast representative of the International Mercantile Marine Co., conferred yesterday afternoon with J. M. Powers of the Atlas Steamship agency, 119 East Broadway, on bookings for the forthcoming world cruise of the giant Red Star liner Belgenland, 27,000 tons, the largest passenger ship ever to enter San Pedro harbor. The Belgenland will leave Los Angeles December 20, for the Orient. Mr. Powers said, and thence through the Suez canal to Mediterranean ports, Europe, and via the Panama canal back to Los Angeles. Several Glendale people are expected to make the trip.

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, Nov. 8.—Work is now under way on the new St. Dominic's school at the corner of Morton and Maywood avenues. The building will be of mission type, according to J. D. Hendricks, contractor, and will cover a ground space 65 by 123 feet. It will contain four standard size school rooms, with provision for four more to be added as the attendance grows.

For the present, one half of the building will be used as a temporary church, with a seating capacity of 300. A bazaar and fair will be held in the Women's club in aid of the new school on Friday and Saturday, November 14 and 15. A hope chest with a value of $250 has been prepared by the women of the parish and will be given away on the last night of the fair. It will be on exhibition in one of the local stores.

up to the latest stunts. Howard Burglars in Eagle Rock are Moor recently advertised a saxophone for sale. While he was away from his home, some one broke in and made off with the advertised articles.

The Tuesday Afternoon Bible class meets every week at the home of Mrs. W. L. Little, 5181 North Hartwick. The class is inter-denominational and the women of Eagle Rock are cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Lena Colter, who has been making an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. I. M. Hoffman of 5218 Hermosa avenue, has left for her home in St. Paul, Minn. After a short stay there, Mrs. Colter will return to Eagle Rock with her family.

Daubers' club, an organization of the artistic aspirants of Occidental college, have elected: president, Hazel Garrison; vice-president, Neal Archer; secretary, Helen Havslip.

Miss Lillian Kirkley has gone to Texas on a visit. Mrs. C. I. Kirkley plans on meeting her daughter there later in the year, if she can arrange her affairs here to permit her absence for a few weeks.

Gerge and Frank Balch, who have been on a business trip for several months to their old home in North Dakota, have arrived home.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, Nov. 8.—A secret committee has been created by the Merchants' division of the local Chamber of Commerce, to pass on the merits of all solicitations for funds. To make this plan a success, every merchant who is accosted for money is requested by Secretary J. W. Charleville to withhold donations and refer the petitioner to the chamber. The request must then be made in writing and will be turned over to the committee for investigation.

Eight new members have been taken into the Women's club. They are Mrs. Bessie McConnell, Mrs. Emily Firman, Mrs. Matilda Morphy, Mrs. Beulah Nielsen, Mrs. Laura Kendig, Mrs. Dwight Leslie, Mrs. Carrie Kahn and Miss Marlon Horn.

"Captain January," featuring Baby Peggy, will be given Friday night, November 28, at the Loma theatre as a benefit performance for the Woman's club-house fund. It has been decided.

Rev. H. O. Simmons of 320 North Olive avenue had a sewing machine motor and $5.40 spirited away from his home on Halloween. At first he thought it was a foolish prank but when his valuables failed to materialize with the passage of the days, Rev. Simmons reported his loss to the police department.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Barber and family of Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada, were recent guests here. They arrived in Southern California from Canada. The journey took two weeks. The family, seven in all, will spend the winter in Southern California.

Fred Beckner has left for a business trip to the northern part of the state. He went by automobile and will be away several days.

STATE HIGHWAY OFFICIALS DISCUSS ROAD PLANS

ANIMAL HOME PLANS ARE COMPLETE

Dog and Cat Kennel to Go Up on Ivy Street at San Fernando Road

Work will be begun immediately by F. S. Card, contractor and builder, on the animal shelter home and kennel, to be erected for the Glendale Humane society on Ivy street near San Fernando road, it was announced last night at a meeting of the society in Odd Fellows' hall on West Broadway.

Members in conference with Mr. Card decided the dog and cat pens and runs could be built first to afford animals shelter during the winter months. The main building will be erected later.

Cake Sale Nets $10
Edwin Kulp, president, was in charge of the meeting. He spoke briefly. Other speakers were Alexander Mitchell, Dwight Stephenson, J. H. Murphy and Arthur Smith.

The hall was decorated with bouquets of chrysanthemums. Mesdames Kulp, E. Zink and Frank Rakez were in charge of refreshments. Members realized $10 on sale of cakes.

Mesdames Norton, B. O. Holbrook and F. S. Card are planning a series of benefit parties for the building fund.

Xmas Mail to Foreign Countries Requires Tag
In order to expedite shipment of Christmas packages addressed to foreign countries, Assistant Postmaster George Hallett urges persons sending such packages to call at the postoffice and secure necessary customs declaration tags.

All foreign lands excepting Canada, Cuba and Mexico require these tags. Many countries require as high as seven to a package, and it is explained that if the tags are procured ahead of time and filled out at home, rather than at the window at the postoffice, time will be saved.

Glendale Legionnaires brought much cheer Thursday night to service men, patients at the government hospital at Sawtelle, when they presented Miss Pearl Keller and a group of her talented pupils in a dancing and dramatic program. There were thirty-five persons in the delegation motoring from Glendale to Sawtelle.

Miss Keller's splendid programs are well known in Glendale, so it is needless to say the patients at Sawtelle were delightedly entertained and most grateful to Miss Keller, her pupils, and the Glendale Legion post.

The program included "Adoration Waltz," Marie Louise Brown and John Blades; eccentric dance, "Raggy Ann and Raggy Andy," Eleanor Marek and Adrienne McDade; "Cupid Dance" and nursery rhymes, Dorothy Rose Werutz; "Russian Dance," John Blades; "French Dog Dance," Marie Louise Brown; "Buck and Wing Dance," Eleanor Marek; musical readings, "Boys" and "Us Twins," Katherine Jane Brunner; patriotic dance, Cecilia Mae Fischer; jazz dance, Adrienne McDade. Mrs. Gertrude Champlain Erb was the accompanist.

Midgets Will Decide Title Here Tuesday
The class C championship games of the Central league will be played Armistice day on Broadway field, when the Glendale peewees hook up with Coach Burley's midgets from Covina. Coach Eugene Wolfe, who puts the locals through their paces, has a team which looks like a sure winner. The "Firecrackers" have won three consecutive games, and have not been scored upon; on the other hand, the "Ponies" have lost both games they have played. The locals outweigh their opponents from ten to fifteen pounds a man.

Soloist

JANE GRAY DAVIS, mezzo-soprano, who is to sing tomorrow night during the music hour, 8 to 9:30 o'clock, at the Oakmont Country club.

Oakmont Country club members and friends enjoying Sunday night at the clubhouse will hear, during the music hour, 8 to 9:30 o'clock, vocal selections by Jane Gray Davis, mezzo-soprano, who has just completed an opera season, and has come to Hollywood to reside.

Mrs. Davis began her musical education in Des Moines, Ia. Later she studied in New York, and finally went abroad to take appropriate work. She achieved great success, as seen in favorable comment from the press in all of the prominent cities throughout the United States and Canada. One critic says of her: "She has a charming personality and lustrous voice, rich in tone color, and flexible."

Clara Wolter Students Seen In Music Program
Miss Clara Wolter of 315 North Orange street, pianist and teacher, presented a group of her pupils in recital last night in the studio at the Glendale Music Co., 118 South Brand boulevard. They were assisted by Miss Clair Payne, vocalist, of Hollywood. A company of invited guests enjoyed the program.

Program included: Duet, "Jamaica Overture" (Harold), Anna Farinacci and Miss Wolter; "The Gobblins" (Heller), Richard Teege; "Second Mazurka" (Godard), Viola Farinacci; "Sonata Op. 7" (Beethoven), Mrs. Ruth West; "Care Selva" (Handel), "Apre Un Reve" (Faure) "My Mother Bids Me Bind My Hair," Miss Payne; "Concerto in G," Mrs. West, orchestral part by Miss Wolter; "Invocation to Life" (Spross), "A Memory" (Fairchild), "To a Hilltop" (Cox), "Song of the Open" (La Forge), Miss Payne.

State Realty Head to Be Welcomed In City
Special arrangements for the reception of President Everett A. White of the California Real Estate association at the meeting of the Glendale Realty board next Thursday are being made. A record attendance of local realtors is expected.

A large number of Glendale realty men and their families is expected to attend the inaugural banquet and ball in honor of President White at Santa Ana tonight.

Garfield W. Jones Is Improving at Hospital
Garfield W. Jones of 240 Cedar street, who has been seriously ill at the Glendale Research hospital, was reported better today. Mr. Jones, who has not been very well for the past two months, was taken ill Tuesday. He is the son of Mrs. A. K. Crawford of 301 North Cedar street.

GRAND VIEW CHURCH IS PLANNED

Rev. Thomas Tells Progress That Necessitates New Place of Worship

Among the newer religious organizations in Glendale is the Grand View Community church, which meets at the Grand View schoolhouse. Just recently Rev. George W. Thomas assumed the duties of the pastorate.

In telling of the church Mr. Thomas said: "This work is one of the typical new developments of church progress in Southern California. For several years there has been in existence a superintendents' council in Southern California, representing fourteen great households of faith. This council is made up of leading officials of the fourteen denominations. They meet regularly once a month to discuss and plan together for the best interest of furthering Christian work."

Plan of Work
"Whenever a new section is developed they make a survey and decide what denomination shall most advantageously undertake the work there. Whoever undertakes the work does not do it primarily for the sake of building their own denominational strength. Under this plan the Grand View district was assigned the Presbyterian church. Already there has been a splendid Sunday school there and a successful daily vacation Bible school was conducted. Nineteen denominations are represented in the church."

Mr. Thomas recently was sent to the field by the Presbyterian board of church extension. He has had wide experience in this type of work and is enthusiastic over his faithful workers and prospects of the future. An organized prayer meeting with president, calling, promotion, transportation and finance committees has been developed as a basis of the organization. Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts are being organized, and Christian Endeavor society will be formed. Sunday school and service are held every Sunday and within a short time a church of possibly 100 charter members will be formed and plans made for a house of worship.

Next Friday night Mr. Thomas will be honored at a reception at the David Black home, 250 Kenneth road.

Modern Woodmen Are Planning Oyster Stew
Glendale camp No. 12886, Modern Woodmen of America following the regular meeting Monday night, November 10, will enjoy a social session, the committee on arrangements having promised all who attend an enjoyable evening.

An oyster stew will be the feature. Camp's winter activities are beginning to take shape. Camp Clerk Henry Molz wants all members to help. Membership now is 140 and at every meeting additions are made so that the 150 mark is expected.

Unaffiliated neighbors or prospective members can get full particulars regarding woodcraft at the camp's meetings held on the second and fourth Monday of each month in the K. P. Hall, corner of Park avenue and Brand boulevard, or by calling upon the clerk at his residence, 363 West Lexington drive any evening.

Republicans, Attention!

During the campaign, which closed with the election last Tuesday, there was deep and general interest manifested by the citizens of Glendale, not only in the dominant issues involved, but also in the local organization of the Republican party. There was an insistent demand for permanent organization of the party on broad lines, and assurances were given that there would be opportunity at an early date for all Republicans in this city to participate in effecting such an organization.

Agreeably to those assurances, there will be a meeting at the city hall, 619 East Broadway, tonight, November 8, at 7:30 o'clock, for the purpose of taking the initial steps in the organization of a permanent Glendale Republican club. All loyal Republicans of Glendale are invited to attend and participate in the proceedings. It is urged that every precinct be represented, and it is especially desired that a generous representation of the younger men and women, and veterans of the three wars be present.

MAKE AIR FLIGHT TO MAP HIGHWAY

W. M. Patch, W. B. Kinner Study Territory Along Proposed Boulevard

W. M. Patch, secretary of the Greater Northwest association of Pasadena, and W. B. Kinner, of the Glendale Airport, took off this morning for a map-making flight over Sycamore canyon and Washington boulevard, continuing the flight over the Foothills boulevard as far as Glendale.

The purpose of the map is to determine the practicability of a through highway from Glendale to Glendale by way of Pasadena, Washington boulevard and Sycamore canyon road to relieve congestion on the Foothill boulevard between Monrovia and Pasadena. The map, which will be drawn by Mr. Patch while Mr. Kinner pilots the ship, will be incorporated in a report to be given to the association next Thursday night. J. W. Watson, chairman of the City Planning commission of Glendale; City Engineer Earl of Pasadena, the city manager of Sierra Madre and the city engineer of Monrovia will be present at the meeting. Preliminary plans for the highway were formulated by William Reeves, former city manager of Glendale, and at one time city engineer of Pasadena.

OPTIMISTS HOSTS AT DINNER PARTY

Members and Guests Attend 'Turn to Right' After Meeting Is Held

Glendale Optimist club members entertained their wives at a very successful meeting and dinner party last night at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. A total of sixty-five members and guests were present and enjoyed the dinner and program with "Turn to the Right," given by the Dobinson Players, climaxing the evening. A program included songs by Elizabeth Leopold, soprano, of Los Angeles, and formerly grand opera star, with Jim Hunter of Glendale at the piano; a group of bass solos by Charles Laird of Stellar male quartet and a Victor phonograph artist, with Mrs. Ball accompanying, and monologues by Harry A. James, maker of numerous Brunswick records, Dr. H. R. Boyer, president, spoke briefly on the activities of the Optimists in Glendale and the purposes of the club. Dinner was served at 8:30 o'clock.

Following the program the Optimists and their guests adjourned to the auditorium, where they witnessed the performance of "Turn to the Right."

C. H. Hunter was chairman of the entertainment and presided during the evening. He was assisted in arranging the program by Dr. W. H. Hepburn, Dr. Orrie E. Christ and Lon C. Davis.

Telephone Officials In House-Warming Party

Glendale office of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co. held a housewarming and dance in their new addition to the building at 125 South Brand boulevard last night, with 200 present. The affair was held in the new cafeteria and was attended by officials of the telephone company from Los Angeles and employees of the Pasadena, Burbank and Alhambra offices. Hall was decorated with Thanksgiving colors, pumpkins, paper turkeys and corn stalks. Dancing was enjoyed and vocal and instrumental program given. Refreshments were served. The committee in charge was Wallace Eddings, Miss Gertrude Patron, Mr. Maine and Mr. Folmer, of the local office.

Dr. Armstrong Named Canadians' President

Dr. Edwin H. Armstrong, native of Toronto and Glendale optometrist, who has resided here a year and a half, was elected at a meeting Friday night in K. P. hall, president of the Glendale Canadian club, to succeed George R. Porter, resigned. Club members are proceeding with the organization of a hockey team, to play in the new ice palace now under construction in Los Angeles. Five hundred was played.

'Victory Ball' Planned To Follow Armistice

Climaxing the observance of Armistice day in Glendale, Glendale American Legion post will give a "Victory Ball" in the hall at 332 North Brand boulevard. Roy Fortie, palace townsmen and George Grist are on the committee on arrangements. A true patriotic affair is promised. Music will be furnished by a military orchestra. All members and friends of the Legion are invited.

Women's Relief Corps For Armistice Parade

Mrs. Mary Bennett, president of the Woman's Relief corps, announced today that all members planning to participate in the Armistice day parade Tuesday meet promptly at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning just east of Lexington drive and Brand boulevard.

WIDENING OF MICHIGAN AVENUE IS CONSIDERED

Inspection Tour of Southern California Is Made by Committee; Banquet Is Held at Oakmont Country Club Last Night

Two hundred citizens from Los Angeles county points who gathered last night at the Oakmont Country club to discuss with members of the State Highway commission the problems of road building in general and the widening of Michigan avenue in particular, adopted at the close of the program a resolution placing them squarely behind any feasible method that the committee may recommend for furthering the movement.

The resolution, as adopted, carried an amendment to the effect that ways and means of achieving the objective should be worked out through the various Chambers of Commerce and other civic bodies, not only of Los Angeles but Southern California as a whole, and that a written report of their findings be tendered to the State Highway committee, to aid the body in rendering its final report to the California Legislature and Governor Friend W. Richardson who created the body.

This action followed a brief but significant address from Nelson Edwards, member of the State Highway commission, a body not to be confused with the State Highway committee, wherein he admitted Michigan boulevard at its present width of fifteen feet of pavement is dangerously narrow. This highway is among those under consideration for widening during 1925, he said.

Glendadians Present
The meeting was presided over by H. N. Fowler, president of the Verdugo City Association of Commerce. There were present from Glendale Councilmen S. A. Davis, S. S. Gilhuly and Asa Hall; Virgil B. Stone, city manager; John F. Johannsen, city engineer; A. H. Lankford, chief of the Glendale fire department; George B. Karr, second vice-president of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce; P. J. Hayselden, director; Howard L. Wood, secretary of that body, and many other local citizens.

George G. Radcliff, president of the State Board of Control and a member of the State Highway committee, outlined briefly the history of the committee's creation by Governor Richardson at the last session of the Legislature. He then launched into an exposition of California's acute road problem, pointing out that whereas in 1912 there were but 78,000 cars registered in the state, an order has been placed for 1,500,000 license plates for 1925. A total of $73,000,000 in bonds for building and maintaining state roads has already been voted, and the last issue is nearly exhausted, he declared. There remains only enough income from all sources to maintain the present highways, according to Mr. Radcliff, who was emphatic in his refusal to recommend any further issues of bonds for road building, reiterating that some other method of financing state highways must be found.

Roads to Border
J. B. Gill of San Bernardino, a member of the State Highway committee, president of the Foothill Boulevard association, chairman of the California division of the Old Trails association, and vice-president of the United States Good Roads association, stressed the fact that the paved highways of the state do not at present reach to the east border, and, consequently, do not make the kind of connections with transcontinental roads that would tend to favorably impress visiting motorists.

E. E. East of 121 West Lexington drive, Glendale, engineer of the Automobile Club of Southern California, spoke briefly, declaring the state highways are in a serious condition. Supervisor Henry W. Wright spoke for the people of Los Angeles county, saying they constitute one-third the assessed valuation and one-third the population of the entire state, and that they want a reasonable proportion of the state highways, in return for their taxes.

Others who spoke included Hugh R. Pomeroy, secretary of the Los Angeles County Regional Planning commission; J. Ryerson, secretary of the Los Angeles Traffic commission; O. J. Renfrew, secretary of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Fernando valley; Harvey Lissell of La Crescenta, Judge Breidt of Tujunga and J. Nemeyer of Sunland.

'Turn to Right' Given For Last Time Tonight

"Turn to the Right" will have its final performance tonight at the club playhouse. The Dobinson Players production of this clever comedy has been attracting widespread notice. Those who have seen "Turn to the Right" by other companies have made favorable comparisons and those who have not witnessed it, are promised a treat in Winchell Smith and John E. Hazard's comedy.

OUR RECORD IN OUTLAWRY

It is of grave consequence that we are suffering from a tremendous letting down of respect for human life and the rights of property and of individuals. The frequency of bank and mail robberies, hold-ups and burglaries give us an unenviable record for world supremacy in outlawry. Banks must transport their gold through the streets in armored cars. We have all seen armed soldiers and files of policemen protecting the registered mail and bank specie, and it is said that machine guns are used for this purpose in New York city.

We think of Mexico as a country of bandits and revolutions, but people in glass houses should not throw stones. Samuel M. Vauclain, head of the Baldwin locomotive works, who travels extensively in Mexico in the interests of his company, says we know little about Mexico, since so few Americans go there. He says had the disorders in West Virginia and at Herrin, Ill., happened in Mexico, we should have heard of them as desperate revolutionary combats. The average Mexican, he says, knows of revolutions only by hearsay.

In regard to banditry Mr. Vauclain says, "Life and property are today in Mexico, or so at least it seems to me, about as safe as life and property are anywhere. Certainly property in Mexico City is safer than it is in New York city. In the financial district unguarded boys of 10 or 12 carry sacks of gold and silver from one bank to another. They stroll along and no one thinks anything of it, and they are quite unmolested. In New York we have to transfer funds in armored cars. My agent in Mexico has several sacks of money delivered to him every morning in much the same way a grocer delivers potatoes. A youngster just wanders in, chucks down the bags, and whistles off again. I cannot say that it is possible publicly to carry a bag of gold throughout all Mexico without being molested, but I do say that, if I had to carry a bag of gold around any country and had my choice of countries, I should pick out Mexico before I should pick out others whose civilization is not questioned."

Why does the United States hold this unenviable record for outlawry? We are constantly expanding our educational facilities and building more and costlier churches. Is it because our courts are too lenient?

RESPECT FOR AUTHORITY

A St. Louis man, brought into court to answer to the charge of beating his 14-year-old son, was vindicated by the judge when it developed in the evidence that the boy was disobedient and did not come home at 10 o'clock at night as his father had directed. The court commended the father for his act, and said, "It is a case of 'spare the rod and spoil the child' that is responsible for much of our crime wave. If fathers would take enough interest in their children to punish them when they do wrong, it would not be long before they would learn the way of the righteous."

Parental discipline is going out of vogue, more or less. The average child does not need a beating to make him obedient, but he does need to be made to realize very early in life that he must be subject to authority. Too many who have never learned that lesson at home are finding it out when brought face to face with the law.

A mother was recently bemoaning her 10-year-old daughter's habits at the table. The young miss will not eat any of those things which her mother deems nourishing and good for her. She hopes to correct the child's habits by punishing her, when, if she had wisely directed her diet when she was younger, such habits would never have been acquired.

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. A boy who has reached the age of 14 without parental discipline is not going to profit very much by beatings now. However, a session in the woodshed is considerably better than one in jail, provided the offense has not been too flagrant.

LEARNING FROM LIFE

Book learning is good, but it should be supplemented by the study of people. The man who keeps his nose in a book all the time doesn't see anything that goes on around him, and there are interesting things to be seen and events worthy of study in relation to living transpiring about us all the time.

Much of the history and literature of the past, to which we have access, is worthy of study. It lived because it is good; it is not necessarily good just because it is old. The life around us as recorded in the newspapers is history in the making, and is intensely interesting, and very important in relation to the present and the future. And, from the study of human nature at first hand, is both fascinating and profitable.

The man who gains all his information from books and none from life is seldom practical. And, while some think there is too much stress put upon the practical side of life, knowledge is of very little benefit unless it is put to some use. It is delightful to store up facts in the mind, and it must be a satisfaction to the academic person just to know that he has great learning, but unless he can use his knowledge to his own good and that of his fellows, it avails little. Learning for the mere sake of learning is very little better than reading for entertainment and pastime alone.

A close acquaintance with good books is to be striven for, but not to the neglect of a wide knowledge of men.

THE NEWSPAPER AND THE CHURCH

At a conference on church publicity held in Chicago recently one speaker used a unique and forceful illustration in his plea for the encouragement of clean journalism. He pictured at the doors of millions of homes in the United States every morning, the bottle of milk and the newspaper. The householder demands clean milk and the laws of city and state see that he gets it. "But," asked this speaker, "What about the newspapers? We have no guarantee when it enters our home that it is as clean and healthy as the milk; but its contents are put into the sacred precincts of the minds of ourselves and family, where its workings are more potent and forceful in our lives." This speaker urged a closer co-operation between the church and the newspaper.

Other national church conferences have recently stressed the mutual benefits to be derived from friendly and business relations between the church and the newspaper.

These two agencies for education and enlightenment have much in common. Each can do better work with the help of the other.

'Tis not the whole of preparedness to become proficient in the art of killing.

Good intention is what keeps the undertaker busy.

THE MAC DONALD CLAN

We Are All Alike

By DR. FRANK CRANE

After all, everybody is alike.

We spend much time and thought on cultivating differences. Every nation thinks that it is superior to every other nation. Every man thinks that his case is different from that of every other man.

And yet we are all alike in many things. We share many of the brute characteristics. We are hungry and sleepy and thirsty, courageous or cowardly, just as the beasts are. Our hair rises and our blood curdles with fear. We have the same sex instincts that they have.

In addition to this all men have the same or similar hopes and fears. All men want to get on and have the same dread of failure.

The same emotions are instinctively in the Chinese and the Arab, the Japanese and the Europeans, that are found in ourselves.

There is very little in any of us that is very distinctively his own.

We are all born of a woman and sooner or later we lie down in our grave.

During this short interval of time every bosom is swept by similar ambitions and fears. Progress is made by the slow accumulation of virtue in the race and is not handed on to us by the individual.

Here and there some man seems to be superior to his fellows, but he, in turn, must lay down his burden and take his place with the silent majority. The one thing that is uniform and persists on earth without pause is humanity.

Gradually civilization irons out the differences between men and reduces them to a common level. That man is the most valuable to humanity who does the most to serve it. A man's final worth is estimated by the value he has been to his race.

"The tallest and the smallest among us," says Thackeray, "are so alike diminutive and pitifully base, it is meaningless to calculate the difference."

Horoscope

Although Venus in benefic aspect apparently dominates this day, it is read by astrologers as very doubtful, for Neptune and Mercury are adverse.

Women are subject to a planetary direction, giving them energy and resourcefulness in business affairs and they should benefit from any initiative that they take today.

Great care should be taken by women to avoid any sort of misunderstanding and misjudgment at this time, for there is a sign read as indicating much gossip and slander.

This is a sway under which romance should thrive, but there is much danger of deception, since men may be extraordinarily deceitful while this configuration prevails.

Artistic affairs should be conducted with caution, for there may be unusual uncertainty attending them at this time.

The evening should be an auspicious time for theatres or social entertainments.

Actresses have the forecast of a season that brings new triumphs. They should be more fortunate than the men of their profession.

Business revivals should be evident in many lines of trade at this time, although there will not be liberality in spending in all probability.

It is likely that Christmas shopping will be rather slow until the middle of next month, according to the stars.

Art treasures and rare pictures come under an sway making for new interest in collecting beautiful possessions.

Surprising sales of pictures and sculptures are forecast for the year, which will bring out many evidences of appreciation of finer things.

Lively days on the stock exchange again are foretold and there is to be a bullish market that will cause a flurry among speculators.

Persons whose birth date it is have the augury of rather an exciting and difficult year that can be made profitable.

Children born on this day may be careless and fond of pleasure. These subject of Scorpio have extreme possibilities, usually, and should be most wisely guided.

Today's Poem

SONG OF THE REJECTEE

Oh, the stamps I've bought, and the envelopes,
And the trips I've made in the rain,
The sleet and the slush to mail my stuff!
But it all came back again.

Oh, the times I've lurked for the postman's ring,
And the way I've greeted him hold!
'Twas ever new ads from "writers' schools,"
But not a line have I sold.

Yet I keep right on with one hope in mind,
And it's not for riches nor fame,
If some editor'll pay for the stamps I've bought,
I'll joyfully quit the game.

Comment From Exchanges

OLD STORY—JEALOUSY

(From Hollywood Citizen)

It isn't often that sports assume the magnitude to get on the editorial page, but the break in relations between Stanford and California universities on the one hand and the University of Southern California on the other has taken on an importance that is making it one of the chief subjects of conversation.

The students of the University of California, forgetting that they are a part of an institution that is maintained by the people not only of Northern California but of all the state, and that the people who send their sons and daughters to other institutions are still supporters of the state university, have permitted themselves to become parties to the jealousy that exists in the north against the south and with a childish reasoning have attempted to lead the sporting world to believe that there is something unworthy and unfit for association in the University of Southern California.

That Stanford university, a strictly northern institution, should come in for its share of childishness in intersectional jealousy, is not a matter of consideration, for Stanford university is not supported by the people of the south.

It is hard to expect that a strictly northern institution can do anything other than share the sectional jealousy that exists between Northern and Southern California, and that has led some of the biggest men of the state to do petty things.

It is hard to expect, perhaps, that the north so rapidly being outdone in every respect by the south, can maintain a broad attitude.

But it is not unreasonable to expect that the University of California be recognized as it is—an institution of both north and south and not an institution belonging entirely to the people of the north.

DEPORTATION AS CURE

(From Hollywood Citizen)

A good example of a curious kind of panic was the futile effort made in New York by the head of an organization for "national security" to deport Countess Karolyi, wife of the Hungarian statesman.

She was assailed as an "ally of the Bolsheviks" and a "dangerous red," and therefore unfit to land on American soil.

She came on a lecture tour, under the auspices of Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., Mrs. Alton B. Parker and others of their type, who had no knowledge or suspicion of the alleged peril to which they were subjecting the nation.

She herself maintains that she is not "red," and perhaps she knows.

Even if the distinguished countess were a great deal more ruddy than she is, in political complexion, it would hardly be necessary to raise a clamor about it and kick her out.

There has developed in this country in the last few years, it seems, a type of citizen whose remedy for all political and economic ills is deportation.

He wants to deport any resident of citizen whose opinions do not suit him, and any foreign visitor whose views he considers dangerous.

"Those citizens should learn from history that banishment and deportation are old nostrums, never found effective, even in Russia which has used them most. For the most part, they increase the maladies they profess to cure."

NO CO-OPERATION THERE

It was noon of a sweltering day, and a large, husky man was comfortably leaning against a post, watching a little man trying to move a tremendous table through the doorway of a nearby house.

"Why don't you help that poor fellow instead of standing idle?" asked a passer-by.

"It ain't me house," the big man explained.

"What difference does that make?"

"All the difference in the world. If it was me house, he wouldn't be movin' the furniture out of it because I never paid the rent."

COUNTING HIS CHICKENS

For months Pat, who lived in the oil country, had been drilling unsuccessfully in his back yard. One day his friends were astonished to see him rush from his door, cheering loudly.

"What's the idea, Pat?" he was asked.

"Haven't ye heard the good news?"

"Good Lord! You haven't struck oil at last, have you?"

"No, not yet. But didn't ye notice how the price of it went up yesterday?"

FAME

Husband: "I'm getting on at the bank."

Wife: "That's fine, dear, but what makes you think so?"

"One of the vice-presidents asked me if I worked there."

PLACE OF HONOR

Undertaker's Friend: "Whose portrait is that hanging on your wall next to Washington's?"

Undertaker: "That's the inventor of the new death-ray."

Records Due to Be Shattered In Southern California By Contractors

By GIL A. COWAN
For Southern News Service.
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—Building records are due to be shattered in Southern California this month. With excellent returns from California's golden fruit harvest pouring in, outlying communities are among the first to report a wave of prosperity soon to sweep the southland.

In Santa Barbara figures have taken a jump with a total of $3,000,000 as against $10,000,000 for the entire year of 1923.

Widespread Prices Are Chicago Beef Features

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—One of the features of the meat trade here recently has been widespread prices for different grades of beef. Carcasses from light grass cattle are selling as low as 6½ cents a pound, while choice yearlings command as high as 22 cents. Foreign trade is light.

Michigan Auto Owners Pay $12,000,000 Fees

DETROIT, Nov. 8.—Revenues from automobile licenses in this state for the first nine months of this year were approximately $12,000,000 as against $10,000,000 for the entire year of 1923.

Industrial Employment Falls Off In Detroit

DETROIT, Nov. 8.—Industrial employment fell off last week by $45 to 194,845. This is within 345 of the low point of the year.

FOUR BILLION IN BUILDING SHORTAGE

Survey By Straus & Co. Has Entire Nation Lacking That Much To Fund

That a national building shortage somewhat in excess of $4,000,000,000 now exists in the entire country is indicated by reports made to S. W. Straus and Co., in a survey of all cities of more than 10,000 population, the results of which were made public yesterday.

Studies were made in 528 cities. In 380 of these, reports were made of building shortages amounting to $4,050,820,000 of which $2,102,698,500 is needed for residential types; $1,150,851,500 for commercial types and $750,270,000 for public buildings of all kinds. In 148 cities no shortage was reported, thus indicating that in these places the amount of building requirements now rests on the normal demands of growth and improvement.

That a shortage of considerable magnitude also exists in places having less than 10,000 population was indicated by the results of the S. W. Straus and Co. inquiry in twenty typical towns of this type in various parts of the United States. Twelve of these places showed aggregate shortage of more than $14,000,000 while eight revealed normal conditions.

Big Church Plans
Investigation also brought to light the building plans and expenditures of nearly $800,000,000 during the next two years for churches, hospitals, charitable and educational institutions, these figures not being included in actual shortages now existing.

Survey, which is the most complete study of actual building conditions throughout the country ever undertaken, was made by S. W. Straus and Co., through its educational department, Chambers of commerce, real estate boards, building departments, municipal governments and other agencies best qualified in their respective communities to give authentic data, co-operated.

It is pointed out in the survey that even within the boundaries of cities where the general situation is such as to justify reports of shortages there may be limited residential zones or there may be certain types of construction in which the saturation point has been reached. Such conditions particularly are pointed in connection with certain sections of the boroughs of Brooklyn and the Bronx in New York, and in Chicago.

Shortages Reported
Eastern section of the country reported total shortages of $2,312,510,000, of which $1,652,887,500 was residential; $439,220,000 commercial and $220,402,500 public. The central states reported $1,149,700,000 shortage, consisting of $294,456,000 residential, $462,741,500 commercial, and $392,472,500 public. In the southern states a total shortage of $307,495,000 was distributed as follows: residential, $83,425,000; commercial, $137,515,000; public, $86,555,000. The western states reported shortages of only $281,115,000 of which $79,900,000 was residential, $91,375,000 commercial and $111,840,000 public.

Of the twenty-five leading cities, New York led with a shortage of $855,000,000, the greater part of which is needed for residential types of buildings. Chicago with a shortage of $501,543,000 was second. Philadelphia reported a shortage of $240,000,000; Milwaukee, $130,000,000; San Francisco, $78,500,000; Pittsburgh, $77,000,000; Los Angeles, $51,000,000; Denver, $45,500,000; Cincinnati, $42,000,000; Portland, $35,000,000; Cleveland, $29,750,000; St. Louis, $16,000,000; Buffalo, $15,250,000; New York $5,000,000; Detroit, $7,000,000; Indianapolis, $2,000,000; Seattle, Wash., $2,500,000; Rochester, $1,800,000. No shortage reported in Boston, Baltimore, Washington, D. C., New Orleans, Minneapolis, Kansas City or Jersey City.

City Continues To Hold High Place In Southwest Building

For the month of October, 1924, building permits with an estimated valuation of $20,763,447 were reported by forty-six cities in the Pacific southwest, including Los Angeles. For the same month last year the same cities reported permits with a total valuation of $32,751,646, while for October, 1922, a total of $20,350,649 was reported by forty-two cities. The total for September, 1924, with fifty-two cities reporting was $23,261,563. The recession in October compared with September, under normal conditions, would be not more than a seasonal decline.

For October, 1924, a total of $8,706,170 in building was reported by 45 cities outside Los Angeles, compared with $12,209,744 for the same month a year ago and $8,770,222 for October, 1922, when 41 cities reported. For September, 1924, a total of $10,271,096 was reported by 51 cities outside Los Angeles.

Of the 46 cities reporting for October, 1924, 18 show an increase compared with October, 1923. Pasadena leads the cities outside of Los Angeles with a gain of half a million dollars over October, 1923. San Diego was second with a total slightly in excess of a million dollars, Long Beach was third, Glendale fourth and Beverly Hills fifth. A substantial gain was shown by the last named city.

Building operations reported in the Pacific Southwest for ten months of 1924 aggregated $230,988,071 for all cities, including Los Angeles, and $102,446,199 for all cities outside Los Angeles. For ten months of 1923 the total for all cities, including Los Angeles, was $276,012,235, and $110,149,290 for all cities outside Los Angeles. Following is the record by months for 1924 and 1923:

A Combination of Select Features Seldom Seen

First, the all important site, 1243 N. Rossmore Ave., 63x148, facing Julio Drive, and the "Ellipse." Plans have been prepared for a $20,000 house with pretentious grounds, directly opposite, which will be one of the show places in keeping with the surroundings.

The design of Spanish Architecture embraces distinctive individuality, with a wide cloister fronting the Living Room, and charming arches opening toward the street, providing a covered porch of rare beauty.

Each of the six rooms in the house has windows on two exposures, the inner Patio allowing plenty of windows without spoiling the "Spanish" Exterior.

The Living Room has a high Barreled Ceiling, textured plaster walls, and built-in "Spanish" Book Shelves. The Dining Room is artistically decorated and opens off the Patio. The house is to be heated with Electrically-controlled Gas Unit Furnaces, and the Plumbing and Plumbing Fixtures invite most careful inspection.

Poultain and Bird Bath in the Patio. Double Garage. Tile Roofs. Designed and constructed by the Homecrafts Corporation, embodying a complement of modern conveniences that leaves nothing lacking. Ready for occupancy in a few weeks, and no flight of imagination is needed to visualize the crowning beauty of this masterpiece, when the Lawn and Shrubbery are in, and the Sprinkler System installed. For the present we have put a price of $15,000, with suitable terms, on this Classic, and the value is being enhanced daily by the High Class Development in the immediate vicinity. The Purchaser at the price will indeed be an opportunist.

Missouri Pacific Loads Show October Increase

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 8.—Missouri Pacific loadings for October totaled 115,298 cars, an increase of 11,822 over September. Since January 1 car loadings of this road have reached 906,109. There were 42,976 cars received from connections in October bringing the total received so far this year to 356,554.

Mail Order Houses Do Record Month Business

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Sales of Montgomery Ward & Co. and Sears, Roebuck & Co. for October are taken here as an accurate measurement of present business conditions in the middle west. The Montgomery Ward sales were the largest for any month in the history of the company. The same is true for Sears, Roebuck except an exception is made of November, 1920.

Improvement Seen In Northwest Prune Crop

PORTLAND, Nov. 8.—There has been a general improvement in the Oregon prune situation, according to Manager M. J. Newhouse of the Northwest Prune Growers' association. The demand in England, Germany and Scandinavia is good. France wants petits and probably will not buy Oregon Italians until her own are gone. The association has few petits to offer.

New England Operates 100 Motor Bus Lines

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—A careful survey of New England indicates fully 100 motor bus lines are in operation using 450 busses daily. This is exclusive of tourist or sightseeing busses. A Manchester-Boston line has just been opened and a Haverhill-Boston line is anticipated.

Glendale Plumbers Get $250,000 County Job

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—Figures made public by the Board of Supervisors show that Coker and Taylor, Glendale plumbing firm, are doing $250,000 work in the new Hall of Justice building at Broadway and Temple streets, Los Angeles.

Kern County Oranges Fall In Crop Result

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 8.—Kern county navel crop this fall is estimated at 400 carloads by Harold F. Pomeroy, agricultural commissioner. This estimate is about 60 per cent of normal.

PREDICTS EXPANSION AND GROWTH DURING NEXT YEAR

Building Permits For First Six Months of 1925 Should Be Double Any Previous Period, Declares W. L. Twining

Glendale is on the eve of the greatest period of growth and expansion in its history, in the opinion of W. L. Twining, newly elected president of the Glendale Realty board, who predicted today that the first six months of 1925 would see double the amount of building activity here of any previous six months on record. Mr. Twining predicted a corresponding growth in population and real estate activity.

In an interview, he told a representative of The Glendale Evening News he believes Glendale's most prosperous year lies just ahead. He cited a number of examples of intensively increased activity within the past week, following the re-election of President Coolidge. More inquiries have passed through this office within the past three days, he said, than during any ten days' period in the past six months.

"There are no clouds on the horizon for Glendale," said Mr. Twining. "Everything in the city is on excellent footing and in a position to take advantage of the great opportunities just opening up for this late fall and the early months of 1925. Glendale business concerns in all instances are in fine, healthy condition, property values are at a par with any time in the past and are rapidly advancing now, building has more than held its own and a great upward trend in this department may be expected."

Residences Built
"The fact that permits in Glendale have exceeded last year's by only a small margin does not tell the story. Virtually all permits issued this year have been for residences while last year there were a number of large business structures built."

"All the Realty board members to whom I have spoken on the subject within the past few days are of the same opinion, that the prospects for the coming year are the brightest ever. We believe that the increased attention given the industrial development of the city by the Chamber of Commerce and others, and by the subdividers of industrial tracts, means much to Glendale at large."

Industrial Expansion
"Our industrial expansion in 1925 should more than keep abreast of growth in other lines, with the concentrated effort to attract concerns here. We, of the Realty board, heartily endorse the idea of bringing the smaller industrial plants which demand only small tracts of land. We believe that half a dozen small plants, hiring as many men as one large plant, can be housed on much less land. Our greatest problem in industrial development is that our tractage is limited and small industries solve this.

"As one of my first acts as president of the Realty board, let me urge upon Glendale people to spend all their dollars in Glendale. That is the best way for them to back up the expansion and prosperity of which I speak. Every dollar spent in Glendale benefits in turn every family and institution in Glendale. Dollars spent on the outside are lost forever."

100 Per Cent Tourist Travel Expected Here

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—Reports of transcontinental railroads this week show that tourist travel to California now is unusually heavy. Eighteen heavy trains of tourists have arrived in the last few days, eleven going to Los Angeles and seven coming here. Railroad passenger agents expect a 100 per cent increase in tourist travel, as compared with last year.

England's greatest trade boom is, in sight and English shipowners should not sell their vessels, declares Sir George Pish, leading figure in Britain's water transportation circles.

Republican Opponent Pays 'Our Nell' Tribute

CASPER, Wyo., Nov. 8.—Eugene J. Sullivan, defeated Republican candidate for governor of Wyoming, today paid tribute to Mrs. Nellie Taylor (Our Nell) Ross, first woman governor of Wyoming, who was elected Tuesday.

"We must lend our wholehearted assistance to the splendid woman whom we have made America's first woman governor. She is a gentlewoman. And it is our duty to stand behind her and the principles of this gracious woman, who has been given more than a man-sized job, by obeying the laws. We must ratify our choice by observing her mandates."

Gangmen Avenue Death Of 'King' Cheroukas

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Gangmen exacted toll for the slaying of "King" Cheroukas when, out of the murky gloom which precedes the dawn, a hail of bullets were sent into the body of Angelo Barbos, wealthy saloon and cafe proprietor. The shooting took place in front of one of Barbos' cafes, just across the street from the place where, a year ago, Cheroukas was shot down and killed. Barbos was convicted of the Cheroukas killing and was at liberty under bond, awaiting a new trial, after having been sentenced to life imprisonment.

Boston Divorcee Weds Nobleman In London

LONDON, Nov. 8.—Earl of Berkeley and Mrs. Mary Lloyd, an American woman, were married today at Price's new registry office. The bride is the former wife of Francis Lloyd and the daughter of John Lowell of Boston. She gave her age as 38, the bridegroom 50. There was no reception. Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for the continent to spend their honeymoon. Only witnesses were present.

Soviets Claim Islands North Siberian Coast

MOSCOW, Nov. 8.—George Tchitcherine, commissar for foreign affairs in the soviet government, today dispatched notes to the foreign powers formally announcing Russia's claims to all the Arctic islands off the northern coast of Siberia. Russia threatens to "demand satisfaction" from all governments supporting claims in opposition to those of the soviets.

AT LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, Nov. 8.—La Crescenta Parent-Teacher association reading circle met at the home of Mrs. Thomas S. Brown on West Montrose avenue this week. The usual reading of child training books was taken up. After the circle closed the members went to the La Crescenta school, where the regular session of the association was held. Mrs. H. V. Henry, district chairman of the home department, who has charge of the Glendale reading circle, gave a brief history of the organization, telling of the purposes of such circles and their results.

The president of the local Parent-Teacher association, Mrs. C. W. Angier, introduced Mrs. C. J. Reinhardt, new president of the Parent-Teacher association of Montrose. It was decided to give a get-together dinner on November 14 at the schoolhouse. The supper will be served cafeteria style. Mrs. C. V. Phillips of the La Crescenta Art and Book Nook has volunteered to make attractive posters advertising the affair.

The girls' Glee club of the school sang under the direction of Miss King, who has charge of the Glee club. An artistic display of painted vases and pendants was judged by Mrs. C. V. Phillips and Mrs. Virna Harman Walker. Beatrice Long received first prize and Elizabeth Talbot Martin won second prize. Mrs. Val Findlay served tea, assisted by Mrs. Elsie Farmer. Donations of cooked foods will be gladly received by Mrs. C. W. Angier or Mrs. Elsie Farmer of Altura and Rosemont avenues. Reading circle will meet next Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Thomas S. Brown on West Montrose avenue.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Women's Guild of St. Luke of the Mountain Episcopal church plans were made for a thrift sale to be held the first Saturday in December. The sale will, according to present plans, be held in some Montrose store and will include fresh home made pies and cakes.

A report from the bazaar committee showed receipts of over $400. There are still some articles for sale, among them being several beautiful hand made lamp shades, which will be on display at the thrift sale. Mrs. Emily Scoles of Flintridge was hostess for the afternoon. The December meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. A. Haskins on Waltonia drive.

Novel hand painted invitations with original verses prepared the recipients for the unusual, and they were not disappointed when they arrived at the Hicks home in Sparr Heights, where two ghostly patrols kept guard on the sidewalk. Tiny hobgoblins received the guests on the porch, conducting them into the house, where more ghosts directed them

STUDENTS STAGE LOYALTY MEETING

U. S. C. May Get Illinois and Nebraska on Schedule For Next Year

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—One of the most inspiring sessions of the student body of the University of Southern California was held this morning at 10 o'clock in Bovard auditorium. It was the Trojan loyalty rally.

At a mass meeting yesterday afternoon Harold Stoner, executive secretary of the university, told the student body that it was the purpose of Stanford and California to "crush the spirit of U. S. C." for very apparent reasons.

Also, it was reported that Knute Rockne, veteran coach of Notre Dame, in agreeing to bring his eleven to Pasadena New Year's day to play U. S. C., asked Gwynn Wilson, graduate manager of the local institution, the following question:

"What are they trying to do out there (referring to California and Stanford) Trying to 'high tone' you, huh? Why, they will be crawling on their knees for a game within two years."

It was announced today that arrangements are under way to bring Illinois university with Red Grange and Nebraska's eleven to fill out the scheduled games which Stanford and California have passed up. Today the fighting Irish from St. Mary's, Oakland, are playing to a monster crowd in the Coliseum against the outlanded Trojans.

Smoke Screen Caused Wreck, Suit Follows

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—Two unusual damage suits were filed today, in superior court, Charles P. Chapman, et al, suing the Pacific Electric railway and the Puller Taxicab Co., for $51,825 as the result of his wife dying in a collision of motorcars near Dominguez Junction. He alleges that the railway had a fire on its right-of-way, set by employees, and that the smoke obscured the view of the taxicab driver.

Thomas G. Stallsmith is suing the Los Angeles railway and Anthony J. Di Botta for $25,975 alleged damages as the result of being crushed between a street car and a motor truck owned by the latter defendant.

L. A. EXCHANGE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—Oils again were the feature of the short session's trading on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange today with the market fairly firm and losses in one offsetting the profits in others. Associated Oil dropped back 1/4 to $31.75 while Holly Development sold heavily at $1.19 and $1.19 1/2. Union Associates sold off three-eighths during the session, closing at $62.75, while Standard of California continued to make gains of 3/4 points, closing at $61.75. Julian preferred was firm at $10.75. U. S. Royalties was up 1/2 this morning.

In the utilities, which were second best traders, Los Angeles Gas & Electric was firm at $38.50 while Edison preferred sold at $105 and common made a 1/4 gain to $100.50.

Los Angeles Investment hung well at $3.90. Mines were firm and lightly dealt in. More interest seems to be evidenced in the New York board of the brokerage houses with the sensational advances in the rails and other stocks.

Chapman of Los Angeles, will regret to learn of the death of their father, Reese Morgan, Thursday night, November 6, 1924, at his home in Westwood, near Cincinnati, Ohio. He was 86 years of age at the time of his death. He is survived by his wife, a son and two daughters in the east, and the son and daughter in Southern California. Mr. Morgan and his wife visited in Glendale twice and made many friends while here. Because of his fine personality Mr. Morgan had a host of friends in his home city and places he visited.

Bread Lines Routed In Record Building Rush

377,611 rung up for the year 1924 so far. Building of medium-priced residences is giving employment to hundreds of carpenters and other artisans.

Santa Ana will pass the $2,000,000 mark in the next week with a $30,000 brick hotel building swelling the November figures. It will be a good building season throughout Orange county, according to reports, with a steady influx of settlers.

No Bread Lines
Santa Monica has exceeded its 1923 building program by more than a million dollars with the year's total today at $5,527,271. The first week of November saw $309,530 permits issued.

Proportionately are Glendale, Pasadena, Long Beach, San Diego and Long Beach adding to Los Angeles' tremendous values of structural work and with new financing, new courage and continuing prosperity assured the southland faces a record period.

A large number of municipal and district improvements, result of successful bond issues at the recent election, also will provide work for hundreds of men. There will be no "bread lines" in Southern California as in eastern and northern centers of population despite the optimism felt in the nation.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Holiday Plans

There was a meeting of the Kindergarten club of the Acacia school yesterday in the kindergarten room of the school. A social hour was enjoyed, during which homemade cake and lemonade was served. Mrs. Edwin Baldwin, president of the club, presided at the business meeting. Plans were made for a Christmas party to be given for the children and their parents on the evening of December 12. The children will be given stockings filled with candies and other things. The members voted to have a sand table made and to hold a food sale at the next meeting on November 21. The money raised at the sale will be used to buy building blocks for the children.

The Wrath To Come

CHAPTER XIV

"Believe me," Grant began—

"Not a word," she interrupted.

"We're all going home. Three o'clock, and tennis tomorrow before lunch. Of course," she concluded, "you needn't come unless you want to. As a matter of fact, though, I should think you've made quite enough mischief for one night. The Japanese youth looked as though he were trying to think out some complicated form of murder for you, when you disappeared with the young woman."

"I shouldn't be surprised if his thoughts were turning that way,"

Grant admitted. "He's a sulky brute. Hullo! Here's Andrews!

I wonder what's up."

The young man who had just entered approached Lymene and whispered in his ear. They talked in agitated monosyllables. Then

Lymene turned towards the others.

"Andrews has just brought some extraordinary news," he announced. "Baron Naga motored over from Nice to the Villa tonight, was taken ill and died there an hour or so ago."

Grant looked across the room.

It was still talking volubly.

Cleo was still listening with the same inscrutable look.

"Delightful!" he exclaimed.

"Mr. Slattery, you must not doubt my sincerity when I say that it is always a pleasure to meet an American. I am no stranger in

New York. I was one of the first who dared show himself there after the terrible days of the war.

I was a youngster then—but it hurt. Still, I said to myself, I will go there. It is the home of many of my race. If there is still bad feeling between us, it must perish. And it has perished. Of that I am assured. It has indeed."

"Do you travel in England, too?" Grant asked.

Mr. Blum was no longer a completely happy man. He sighed.

"In England—no," he answered. "That is another matter. Princess, I kiss your fingers. My luncheon will be a happier meal for the pleasure you have brought into the room. Mr.

Slattery, I envy you, sir. So does every man, but I bear you no

grudge."

He departed, ponderous, yet light-footed, elephantine yet dignified. Grant gazed after him with genuine curiosity.

"If I were up against that man in a business deal or a political imbroglio," he murmured, "I should feel that I needed all my wits about me. A person of that type is more dangerous than all the Luttrechts in the world."

"Dangerous?" But how dangerous?" she queried. "Mr. Blum is a great philanthropist and an enthusiastic patron of the arts. In what respect could he be dangerous?"

"Only if he chose to be," Grant answered carelessly.

"Could I be dangerous, if I chose to be?" she demanded.

"You are dangerous," he assured her. "You are the most dangerous woman in the world to my peace of mind. And the terrible part of it all is that you are a German. You belong to a race with whom the domestic virtues are a positive fetish."

"Just because I married Otto?"

"Just because you married

Otto," he acknowledged. "Germans have the knack of making

Germans of their wives. "What is there Teutonic about me? German women haven't my figure,

and they certainly couldn't wear

my clothes."

"Externally you have advantages," he admitted. "All the same you have married a German and you are a governed woman."

"How you hate my adopted country," she exclaimed.

"I do not," he objected. "I hate neither the country nor the people. My feeling is entirely different. I don't mind admitting that if I were a seriously minded politician I should be afraid of him."

"But why?" she asked. "What is there to fear? Industrially

the world is open to every one since war was done away with."

"Perhaps so."

"But hasn't it, Grant, really?

The Pact includes every European nation, as well as Japan. Then there's the Limitation of Arms

as well. Every nation is more or less on an equal footing, and they are all pledged not to fight one another. You must admit that Germany has kept the conditions of the Pact faithfully.

Where can fear lie?"

"Where, indeed? You mustn't take me too seriously, Gertrude.

I only meant that, so far as I can see, Germany is well on the

MURPHY COMEDIANS

"Peg o' My Heart" will be presented tonight for the last time

by Murphy Comedians No. 2 at their tent theatre, corner of San Fernando boulevard and Cedar street, Burbank, announces J. W.

Davis, manager. Starting Sunday night the play for a week will be "The Power of Wealth," a strong political drama.

John Hughes will be featured in the new play, supported by Barbara Guernsey. Vin Moore, the director, will, in addition, play

the comedy role, Mr. Davis states.

The play deals with the campaign of a young lawyer for the government, and his fight against a corrupt politician, with whose daughter he falls in love.

The tent of Murphy Comedians

No. 2 is heated and ample parking space is provided for all cars.

The curtain rises at 8:15 o'clock nightly.

"Dutch" Lunches Plan of Community Chest Drive

Executive committee of the

Glendale Community Chest campaign has arranged to hold team

luncheons at noon of each day during the campaign week. November 17-22, in the dining-room of the First Presbyterian church.

Luncheons will be strictly

"Dutch," provided by women of the church at 50 cents a plate.

There will be community singing at each noonday meeting under the general direction of J.

Arthur Myers, community service

song leader for Glendale. Teams of campaign workers will report progress daily at these meetings.

Programs are promised to be snappy and interesting, with meetings adjourning at 1:30 p. m.

way to becoming the second most powerful nation in the world. But honestly, I don't know why we're talking politics. I lost all interest in them years ago. Do you know what I did yesterday?"

"Tell me," she begged.

"I wired to Cannes for my yacht. It should be here tomorrow."

She looked at him for a moment steadily. Then a tinge of color stole into her cheeks. She seemed suddenly a little nervous.

"I wish I knew which was the real Grant," she murmured.

"What do you mean?"

"The Grant of yesterday—or the Grant of today."

THE GATEWAY

In Frank Lloyd's production of

"The Sea Hawk" now enjoying unusual popularity at the Gateway Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, the photography is one of the most discussed points of the big First National spectacle.

The script called for several difficult night scenes of ships at some points more than half a mile away from the camera, yet

Norbert F. Brodin, the camera man, with the cooperation of Mr.

Lloyd and the crews of the ships,

has produced some startling results.

"The Sea Hawk" has been acclaimed one of the outstanding triumphs of the screen, and Mr.

Brodin has made it indeed a highly creditable presentation of the photographer's art.

DOBINSON PLAYERS

"Turn to the Right" will be presented tonight for the last time by the Dobinson Players, at the Tuesday Afternoon club theatre. Next week the offering will be the celebrated comedy hit,

"Adam and Eve," announces Mrs.

Florence Dobinson. The play will open with a Wednesday matinee and continue the balance of the week.

"Adam and Eve" was an outstanding New York success and it is expected to prove very popular here. It is a sophisticated comedy with sparkling dialogue and swift action, with many unexpected turns and twists to its clever plot.

"Turn to the Right" has to do with a young man who is made to go straight through a combination of mother love and love of a girl.

The play is sweet and wholesome but sacrifices no strength to achieve these qualities. The curtains rises at 8:15 o'clock.

THE T. D. & L.

"Vanities' Price" concludes today at the T. D. & L. theatre.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday the picture is Cecil B. De Mille's

"Feet of Clay."

THE GLENDALE

"Don't Doubt Your Husband"

concludes today at the Glendale theatre. Sunday and Monday the picture is "Desire."

Over four billion dollars' worth of life insurance was paid for during the first nine months of this year.

The feathers of 90,000 geese were used recently in stuffing the pillows of a great American hotel.

G. O. P. WIN IS IMPETUS TO TRADE

Business Gets Off With Bang As Coolidge's Election Is Fully Absorbed

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—With the announcement of President Coolidge's election finally absorbed from the radio and the newspapers businessmen lost little time in reaching their desks. Few stopped even to watch the first of the election but payers rolling their quadrants. The first thing many of these executives did was to give an order—an order for more goods or more materials or for heavier production.

Business was free, with the election over, to respond to healthy conditions of commerce and industry throughout the country and the expansion due to seasonal influence. The hesitancy in business, plainly noticeable prior to Tuesday, undoubtedly was due to psychological rather than physical causes. But the lifting of this mental barrier had practically the same result on backed-up volume as the opening of the flood gates of a dam.

Psychological Effect
In most lines of trade, the result of election could have only a psychological effect for months to come, no matter if Davis or La Follette had been chosen instead of Coolidge. The president-elect would not have taken office until March, 1925, while the congress elected will not convene for over a year. But although they realized these facts most business men hesitated about going forward with their programs until the uncertainty finally was swept away.

Some still view one or two possibilities with alarm. One is the danger that some coalition might affect the passage of certain necessary appropriation bills between now and next March. Construction has been authorized for federal improvement projects on rivers and harbors which it will take $204,000,000 to complete and a check to which would affect many producers and workers.

State Issues Big
States and municipalities however, voted Tuesday on bond issues to provide funds for public works involving expenditure of $600,000,000 and sufficient of these issues were authorized to provide a tremendous demand for labor and materials, both raw and manufactured. Banks and investment houses also are preparing to finance public utility betterment programs the inauguration and expansion of bus lines and the merging of mining and industrial concerns of various sorts which will require heavy purchases and pay rolls.

Sugar Tariff Worries
Another danger, seen especially in the middle and far west, lies in the possibility that the tariff on Cuban sugar may be reduced by presidential action now that election is over. The beet growers continued to assert today that their industry is all that keeps the consumer in this country from being at the mercy of the Cuban producers and big refiners, so far as price is concerned.

With the domestic sugar growers driven from the field, they see nothing to check a scheme by the Cuban government or a coalition of Cuban growers which could so control shipments of Cuban sugar to this country as to enable them to name the price desired. The domestic producers say that is exactly what happened with Cuban sugar once before and what is happening now with Brazilian coffee owing to the restrictions on shipments of the latter commodity by the Brazilian government.

Renewed Activity Felt
Since the lowering of the sugar tariff wall was emphatically demanded by the campaign managers of both Davis and La Follette, however, the beet and domestic cane growers are somewhat less apprehensive about immediate lowering of the sugar impost by the president.

In general, despite these instances cited, renewed activity made itself felt today. Railroad and vessel men turned every effort toward moving grain and other crops. New high records for all time were reached in grain receipts at Duluth, which totaled over 58,900,000 bushels. Stocks in elevators there exceed 24,000,000 bushels. In order to provide storage space for grain which will be marketed in the winter months, record shipments must be made before lake navigation closes. Similar activities are necessary in other grain centers.

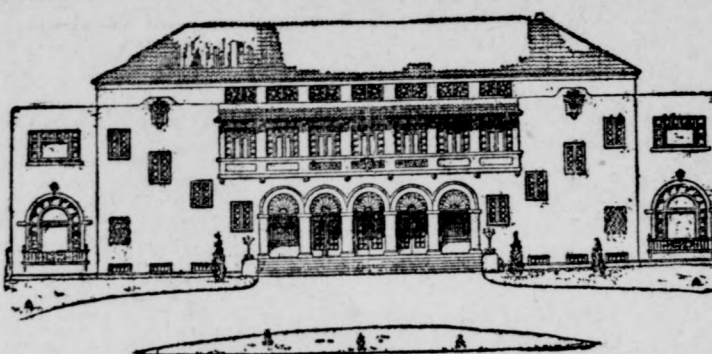

Twin Cities Again Give Belt Line Consideration

ST. PAUL, Nov. 8.—Plans for construction of a belt line railroad around the Twin Cities by the Burlington, Great Northern and Northern Pacific roads again are being given consideration because of congestion of terminals by heavy freight movement resulting from grain shipments and general merchandise.

Mexico now has 13,205 miles of railways in operation and the government controls 8,526 miles of these.

Swimming And Dancing

This picture is the architect's conception of the proposed swimming and dancing club being organized in Glendale. It is announced that there is a demand for membership. It is declared the club will be finest of its kind in the state.

Swimming and dancing clubs and other recreational facilities are rapidly taking their place in the lives of Southern California families. Words regarding the advantages of recreational facilities in this section of the nation would be but a statement of facts, known to every person who lives here and enjoys the advantages of the climate. One could go down the streets of this city and approach every healthy person and would be unsuccessful in finding one who is not a lover of sports such as dancing and swimming and that takes advantage of the opportunities offered in this part of the country to participate in the many recreational activities to be found with so little inconvenience.

In building the Iroquois Swimming and Dancing club, it is announced there is no intention on the part of the managers to realize any profit from the sale of memberships, allowing for the dues to take care of all expense at leaving a small profit for the managing of such a club, at the least expense possible to those participating. These dues include all privileges such as swimming, gymnasium, dancing and club rooms.

The compensation from such an expenditure was to be in the tendency of such a facility to bring a more rapid development of this project. It was necessary to provide recreational facilities, attractive to residents.

Swimming Popular
Among the various indoor games which within the past few years have become popular are swimming. It has enjoyed a more rapid climb to popularity than any other form of physical recreation and exercise. In California its popularity is without parallel. Reasons for this are, perhaps, the climate, giving the people the year around to indulge in the sport. There is but one obstacle in the way of continued increasing popularity of this sport, enjoyed by young and old alike, that is sufficient indoor and sanitary pools for the use of these clubs, the increasing number of followers of this wholesome sport. Public pools have been resorted to but there is not a city that has been successful in keeping up with the demand.

An example of the need for such pools and the inadequacy of such facilities can be witnessed almost any time at the Glendale public pool in Patterson park which is only available during the summer months. Lovers of swimming and dancing do not object to the payment of a reasonable fee to enjoy these pleasures, provided they are furnished with a first class floor and plunge.

Barred By Expense
The prices of most private clubs are beyond the means of the average person also, unless the member has time to go regularly, dues and assessments are beyond his ability to pay, making the use of such clubs a very expensive pleasure.

Another consideration which retards the average clerk and business man or woman from enjoying the use of these clubs is the distance and long, tiresome ride necessary to go from the home or office.

B. A. Brennan has secured the services of William McInnis, considered among the best promoters of swimming, dancing, gymnastics and other sports, who will create an atmosphere of fun at all times, such as carnival nights, water polo, racing, physical culture, etc., without any extra charge to members.

"This will be the finest institution of its kind in the state and will have no comparison in appointments, cleanliness, and comforts," says Mr. Brennan. "The Iroquois Swimming and Dancing club will be devoted to the welfare and interest of its members and in order to achieve its purpose it must in return receive the loyal boost and help of every American citizen in the community. The opportunity that you have all been waiting for is at hand, a club where all good Americans can join at a price within reach of all. Remember, the membership is limited. Get in the swim today, tomorrow may be too late."

WORK ON QUILTS
Members of the Aid society of the Central Christian church held an all-day meeting at the church Thursday, the time being spent in sewing on quilts, which have been ordered. There were enough women present to work on four quilts all day. Meetings will be held Tuesday and Thursday, as the large number of orders for quilts necessitate the members fill them.

IN SOUTHLAND

By Southland News Service.
GEM FOUND UNDER SKIN
UPLAND, Nov. 8.—Equalling the tales of smuggling diamonds from the South African mines by secreting them in the flesh, search failed to find the set of a diamond ring lost by Mrs. Kingsley L. McKee of South Pasadena after she was injured in an auto accident. At the San Antonio hospital her left hand became swollen and the diamond was found embedded under the skin where, apparently, she had been scratched by glass.

CLAIMS BEAUTY RUINED

SANTA ANA, Nov. 8.—Nellie Anderson, Fullerton girl and former employee of an Orange view factory, is plaintiff in a suit for $10,218 damages, alleging her beauty was ruined in a wreck. WHITE HOUSE LOOMS TO WOMEN

President Coolidge scored almost double the number of electoral votes necessary to elect him. Beyond doubt his popularity and his policies will restore confidence, as is already shown by the market reports, and prosperity will prevail.

Already the building of a greater Southern California has begun, and the many incidents of the passing year are now to be forgotten. This writer predicts that more rapid strides than ever will be made in the next six months in industrial and commercial enterprises, while home building will continue apace.

Deserter Discovered By Talking In Sleep

Thousands of eastern people, particularly from the farming districts, who are retiring, will come to California this season. They are to be seen on the streets today. Others will go to Florida, no doubt, for that state is conducting a great advertising campaign.

However, loyal residents of Glendale can bring their friends and relatives here by personally inviting them and by sending copies of The Glendale Evening News' Development number. If these friends of yours are dependent on their daily labor for a living, this writer would advise that you first obtain employment for them.

Plan Park Meeting At Ontario November 18

Southern California should not be made the dumping ground of the unemployed and indigent. But it is ripe for profitable investment, the establishment of industries which will have the world as their field, and certain increase in agricultural pursuits.

Our advice to strangers—and there are many who read this paper—is to exercise due caution in making investments. Too many people have come here with a "fourflush," put every dollar they possess in real estate, or questionable business enterprise, to find need for this next egg.

State Printer Succeeds As San Quentin Warden

Buy real estate in Glendale, folks, but do not extend your means; buy any business you may desire after investigation of not less than a month. In Los Angeles we personally know of "restaurants" being established to sell the "sucker." Partnerships in printing firms, also, are offered which cannot control sufficient business to support one man.

Some subdividers are selling "business frontage" in localities where the potential mercantile trade is nil. And yet, in certain expanding communities there are "real buys" in the way of both business and residential property.

Africans Wearing More Clothes It Would Seem

Real estate dealers are to be cautioned against misrepresentation. It means the revocation of license as well as civil action for damages many of which are on file in the county courts today. Strange to say, Burbank, nearby, has been given a "black eye" because of such operations, while Glendale is particularly free from fraud.

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, Nov. 8.—When Ku Klux Klan speakers appeared on the Tujunga school auditorium stage Thursday night they were greeted by a vast throng of interested onlookers. The well known wide open spaces. Three people, one a newspaper reporter, formed the audience. A dialogue and other speaking act the narcotic evil was scheduled to be given, but the speakers decided to postpone the program in view of the discouraging attendance.

A protest by residents of the Haines canyon neighborhood to the forestry bureau has temporarily halted the establishing of a rock crusher in that vicinity. Protest was based on objections to dust and noise which the plant would cause, it is said. Promoters of the plant plan to supply the local building trade demand for sand and gravel, most of which is at present hauled from the bed of the Big Tujunga wash north of Sunland.

Dr. C. E. Pomeroy, county health officer, was the principal speaker on the program for the Friday meeting of the Kiwanis club. His subject was "Health and Sanitation." A dance is planned by the Kiwanians for the near future.

Mrs. Mark White and Mrs. A. M. Kinder, president and secretary of the Woman's club, recently gave a tea for the benefit of the Parent-Teacher association. Mrs. J. B. Lorber, chairman of the Los Angeles district of the California Federation of Women's clubs, will address the members of the Tujunga club Tuesday at the clubhouse on San Ysidro street. She will speak on the advantages of membership in the federation.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—James Edmundson, 52, was dead here today, a victim of football and excitement. Edmundson, a football enthusiast, was watching his son, member of a high school team, play in a closely-contested game. The final moments of the game were thrilling, and Edmundson suddenly collapsed after rising in one of the stands to cheer his son's team. He was dead when picked up.

Clyde Akers is held by police here on suspicion of having robbed the secret wall safe in the home of Mrs. James Everhard, resident of the Wilshire district, and taking a diamond dinner ring valued at $165,000. The robber overlooked other baubles valued at $475,000, it is said.

Thomas A. Russell, principal of the Huntington Park high school, declares his incarceration in the county jail on charges of contributing to the delinquency of boys students, is the result of a "frame up" which has been plotted since ten years ago, when he was leader of a boys' club in San Diego and was opposed by a Y. M. C. A. director.

Little Theatre Players of Community Service presented the three-act comedy drama "Kempy," to a full house at the Glendale Intermediate school last night. The play was given as a benefit for the Acacia Avenue Mothers' Club Parent-Teacher association and $120 was realized. The play was well presented and enjoyed. Music was furnished by the Glendale Intermediate School orchestra. Harriett Stryker danced the Highland Fling and Mayor Spencer Robinson sang "Friend of Mine" and "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms." Home-made candy was sold.

a passenger list made up almost entirely of Southern Californians, who will see Kilauea, as well as much local freight for Honolulu. Tomorrow will bring forth appeals from every Los Angeles pulpit for the success of the Community Chest drive, which officially begins Monday. Campaign managers are confident of an early success.

To Dr. Maynard Crawford, son of Judge Hugh J. Crawford of the municipal police court, goes the credit for having successfully managing his father's campaign which will elevate the veteran jurist to the Los Angeles county superior bench. It was revealed today. Although a doctor, he prepped beyond a reasonable doubt that "advertising pays."

Attorneys, as shown in lists printed this morning, appear to have an excellent system of reducing their taxable incomes. Bankers, real estate dealers and store owners evidently need to hire these lawyers in Los Angeles.

In Sycamore Glen

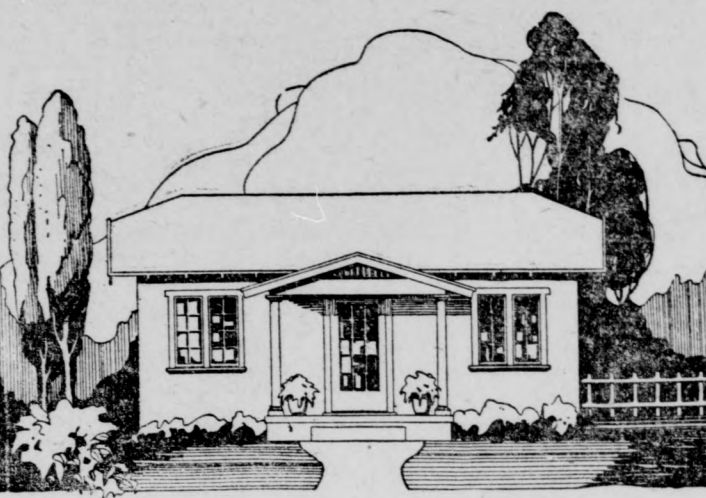

A plan whereby the purchaser selects his lot making only a small down payment and has a home built according to his own plans, paying the balance like rent, is announced by R. A. Luring, subdivider and developer of Sycamore Glen. It follows:

"Following an announcement in last Saturday's Glendale Evening News, of building activities in Sycamore Glen, we have been swamped with inquiries and applications. Present plans call for the erection of only fifty homes under the 100 per cent finance plan. Applications must be passed on in the order received," said Mr. Luring.

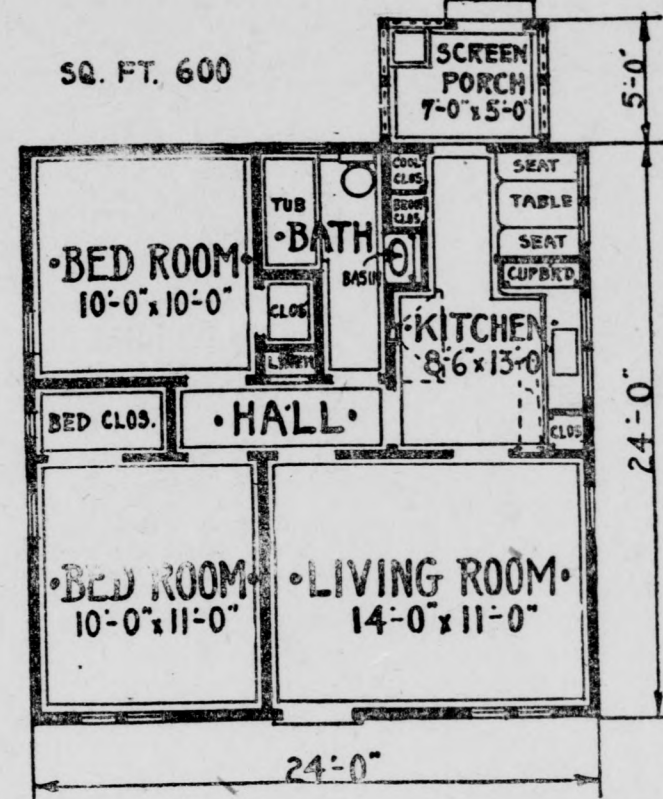

"The fact that Sycamore Glen is only five minutes from the heart of Glendale, on the new, paved Sycamore Canyon drive, close to High and public schools, with bus service now assured, has greatly simplified the problem of financing. We have found the banks ready to co-operate with us in building up the tract."

Roomy, Comfortable, Neat

There is plenty of room in the floor plan shown below, furnished by BENTLEY LUMBER CO. It is conveniently arranged with handy built-in features, and has a cleverly arranged breakfast nook. The sleeping porch at the rear and the two bedrooms provide ample facilities for guests.

• FLOOR PLAN NO. 1970

Dear Grace:—Your letter received, and I experienced much pleasure in its perusal. I can never forget the jolly times and happy days we used to spend together at Mrs. Modernhouse's. Papa brought us up here to Huntington Lake last week with Harry and Flora, and we are staying at the lodge till our home is completely remodeled and renewed.

That reminds me, Harry and Flora have purchased a lot upon which they are going to build, as soon as the escrow has been completed. You know, Grace, they don't run lumber yards any more in our city of Glendale. These lumbermen call themselves building material merchants, and they have service departments, with free plan services and just everything in the line of information that you can think of. I have heard papa speak about them at different times, and I accompanied Harry and Flora when they picked out their plan. It is really wonderful. They let you ask them as many questions and spend as much time as you care to and never charge you a cent. I am enclosing a picture of the exterior and the floor plan arrangement of the home that Flora and Harry selected, which is just above. Isn't it darling?

Harry and Flora have decided there are four things to consider when building a home. First, quality. Harry is going to buy from a firm whose reputation is well established. Second, service. Delays in delivery cost a home builder a lot of money. A reliable firm delivers without delay, and their drivers are courteous. Third, dependability of the seller. This is a mighty big thing in getting building satisfaction, and a firm with a long list of customers is an evidence that their customers are king. Price is important, of course, but only to the degree consistent with quality, service, dependability. Harry got his plans from the Bentley Lumber Co., situated at 460 West Los Feliz road, at which place he is buying all his building material.

If I could have a new home as wonderful and beautiful, I would grab me a man and settle down

HOMECRAFT PLANS
UNIQUE BUNGALOW

Spanish Design Home Having Inner Patio Expected
To Be Showplace

One of the show places of the city will be the Spanish design bungalow, plans for which have been prepared by the Homecraft Corporation, 416 East Colorado boulevard, to be erected at 1243 North Rossmore avenue.

The site is 63x148 feet, and the house will be fronted with pretentious grounds. A wide cloister faces the living room, and arches open toward the street, providing a covered porch. Each of the six rooms has windows on two exposures, the inner patio allowing plenty of windows without spoiling the Spanish exterior. The living room has high barrelled ceiling, textured walls and built-in Spanish bookshelves. The dining room opens off the patio and is artistically decorated. Electrically-controlled gas unit heaters will be installed. A fountain and bird bath is provided in the patio, and tile roof and double garage completes a home in which nothing is lacking in convenience.

'24-HOUR VIEW' IS SLOGAN OF TRACT

Company Operating Through
Sycamore Glen Hillside
Explains Reason

"Hillside sites with the twenty-four hour view," is a new slogan of R. A. Luring, subdivider who is financing extensive new building in Sycamore Glen, on the new Sycamore Canyon drive.

"What is this twenty-four hour view?" an inquisitive customer asked. The answer is mountain sunrise, a noontide vista which on a clear day, from certain vantage points, reveals a broad expanse of beautifully fertile San Fernando valley, the blue Pacific in the distance and pleasure craft bound for Catalina. Eventide and a myriad of twinkling city lights—truly a twenty-four hour view, exotic in its loveliness, it is declared.

Oregon Newspaperman
Called Here by Illness

Lewis Havermale, newspaper man of Portland, Ore., arrived here recently, called to Glendale by the serious illness of his mother, Mrs. D. A. Havermale. Mrs. Havermale came to Glendale in August to visit her son and family. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Havermale, 322 Ivy street, and since the middle of August had been confined to her bed. Her condition was reported unchanged today.

For the rest of my days, but I've got to find the man with the home first.

By the way, there are a lot of sheikhs that are resting around here at the lake, but they don't interest me in the least. I can't be bothered with them, as I so admire an honest big man. Lovingly, your chum, OLIVE.

THE PATH OF GOLD THAT LEADS TO THE SECURITY BANK

THE path of Gold is down Broadway from the hills to Central Avenue. Beautiful ornamented street lights; Glendale's latest adornment.

Because this Bank has the growth and development of Glendale at heart, we are proud of this modern lighting system which makes Broadway one of the best lighted and most attractive streets in all of Southern California.

On the corner of Brand Boulevard and Broadway, at the Security Trust & Savings Bank, is a good place to view this beautiful effect. On the corner of Brand and Broadway at the Security Bank is also a good place to transact your Banking Business.
